

Funding for New Zealand study at an overseas campus or delivery site

For tertiary education organisations

New Zealand tertiary education organisations may receive tuition subsidy funding, via the Tertiary Education Commission, for domestic students who undertake part of their programme overseas. The overseas campus or delivery site must be in one of the following countries or regions.

More information and requirements are available on the Tertiary Education Commission website.

For domestic students

New Zealand citizens and residents who undertake part of their study programme overseas may be able to receive a student loan or student allowance. The overseas campus or delivery site of their New Zealand tertiary education organisation must be in one of the following countries or regions.

More information and requirements are available on the StudyLink website.
