Overall student visa trends February 2017

Caveats and notes

International student

International student- Students who are non-residents of New Zealand and Australia who:

- Have entered into New Zealand expressly with the intention to study
- Have enrolled in a New Zealand provider offshore, where the educational programme is delivered in-market.

 Rule 18 Rule governing English Language requirements for certain international students. More information about this is available on http://www.nzqa.govt.nz/about-us/our-role/legislation/nzqa-rules/nzqf-related-rules/programme-approval-and-accreditation/8/18/
 Section 61 visas issued to people who are currently in New Zealand outside of Immigration NZ policy.

Scope of this document

- This dashboard excludes dependants, applicants under Section 61, and applications for variation of conditions.
- There is a potential delay between students having their visas approved and their actual entry into New Zealand, therefore the figures shown here may not necessarily represent the actual number of students currently in New Zealand.

The student visa dashboard does not include all international students:

- Student visas only capture students who enter New Zealand with a student visa. These students are mostly those who are planning to study for more than three months.
- Students who undertake a course less than three months in duration are not required to enter on a student visa. Students who do choose to enter on a visitor visa (usually from visa-free nationalities) are not captured in this dashboard.
- Working holiday visas allow students to study for up to six months. Those who enter NZ on a working holiday visa and plan on taking up this option are not included in this dashboard. These factors will affect private training establishments (PTE) numbers.

Acronyms

Acronyms

FSV – First-time student visas – The number of visas issued to students for the first time. Visas for dependants and section 61 applicants are excluded since these people do not fall under the definition of international students.

RSV – Returning student visas – The number of visas issued to students subsequent to the first issuing of visas. Visas for dependants and section 61 applicants do not fall under the definition of international students.

TSV- Total student visas – The number of visas issued to students, either for the first time, or after the first time. Declined visas are not included. Visas for dependants and section 61 applicants are excluded since these people do not fall under the definition of international students.

VSV- Valid Student visas – the number of people holding a student visa and/or permit at the beginning of each calendar month. Visas for dependants are excluded. The presented figures can be interpreted as the number per month of international students with authority to study in a course of three or greater months in duration. This does not mean that these students are present in New Zealand for the entire duration of their visa.

YTD - Year-to-date

Sectors

ITP- Institutes of Technology and Polytechnics

PTE- Private Training Establishments, including Private Training Establishments which receive government funding for Schools – includes all students in primary, intermediate and secondary schools.

Additional notes

- Results for YTD this year will be compared to the YTD 2016 unless otherwise stated.
- VSV are being reported on for the first time in this dashboard.

Executive summary

- 1. TSV for the YTD 2017 increased by 13% (+2,033) compared to the YTD 2016. FSV increased by 8% (+576).
- 2. TSV for the universities sector increased by 16% (+925), due to an increase in FSV(+27%, +626). The increase in FSV is from the USA (+41%,+224), India (+53%, +131), and Viet Nam (+177%, +69) markets, while the increase in RSV is from China (+13%, +270).
- 3. PTE sector TSV increased by 2%(+70) for the YTD 2017, compared to the YTD 2016. RSV increased by 18%(+343). However, FSV had a 10% decrease (-273). This was due to a 51% (-203) decrease in FSV for the India market.
- 4. TSV for the Schools sector grew by 22% (+618), driven by an increase in FSV for secondary school students from Brazil (+68%, +78), China (+34%, +69) and Chile (+756%, +68).

Cautionary note: This dashboard presents data for two months. The timeframe used in this dashboard is too brief to draw robust analytical conclusions.

Valid student visas

For the first time, this dashboard references the valid student visas (VSV), that are being reported. VSV were 80,418 as at 1 March 2017, which were stable compared to 1 March 2016. Historically, VSV reach their highest point in March. Many student visas expire on 31 March, which means a large drop is expected in April.

Comparison to previous years (Cumulative)

- TSV for February 2017 are up (+16%, +1,427) compared to February 2016.
- FSV for February 2017 have increased (6%, +261) compared to February 2016.
- RSV have increased (+22%, +1,211) compared to February 2016. Many visas expire on 31 March, which means that RSV generally peak in March, but they normally start to increase in February before the March peak.

- TSV for the Philippines have increased by 20%(+ 47) in the YTD 2017 compared to the YTD 2016. Most of this increase in RSV is in the PTE sector.
- VSV on March 1 2017 are 1,860, a decrease of 24% (-588) from the same date in 2016, due to a decline in VSV for PTE students. This decrease is likely related to the implementation of rule 18.

- TSV were up 121%(+108) for the 2017 YTD compared to the YTD 2016. The schools sector had a 767% (+69) increase, which mainly received their visas in January. This stems from the Chilean government's "Penguins without Borders" programme, which sends high-achieving secondary school students to New Zealand for two terms.
- VSV were 420 on 1 March 2017, a 48% (+137) increase on the same day in 2016.

Trends by region

A note about regional data

Due to data improvement processes within Immigration New Zealand, there have been some changes to region-based data for visas.

Numbers in these slides may have changed from slides previously produced.

This data should be treated with caution, therefore the number and percentage changes should be considered approximates.

- Auckland, New Zealand's most popular international education destination, was up 12% in the YTD 2017 TSV compared to the YTD 2016. There was an increase in FSV for the universities and schools sectors. RSV increased across all sectors, led by a rise in visas in the PTE and ITP sectors. This was mainly driven by an increase in the number of students from China.
- VSV for Auckland was stable on 1 March 2017, declining by 2% (-1,156) since March 1 2016 to reach 47,518.
